Memorandum No. S-1203, dated the 8th November 1916, from the Press Adviser to the Deputy Chief Censor, to the First Assistant Resident in Mysore.

There has lately been reason to think it possible that Indian newspapers, in which the dates of sailing of homeward mail steamers and the announcement of the names of some of the passengers sailing by them have been published, may perhaps reach neutral countries in time to permit these details being communicated to enemy countries and therefore to allow of special instructions being issued to enemy ~~xxxxxx~~ submarines as regards particular vessels. In view of this possibility, I am desired to suggest that editors of newspapers in India should be asked to refrain from publishing such items. DIARY NO. 4426
